

OFFER YOUR CUSTOMERS A FULL-SYSTEM WARRANTY

Relying on warranties that come with individual solar components can become an unnecessary headache for you and your customers. Warranties vary greatly and are difficult to manage if there is a problem or a manufacturer becomes bankrupt – especially if frustrated owners want you to handle the issue.

Backing the systems that you install with a single, rock-solid warranty is a win-win for you and your customers.

Plus, you control the retail price of the coverage. Create another revenue stream that you can build into your estimates or offer as an option.
